MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Boston is first to have a juvenile "Uncle Tom's Cabin" dramatic company.

Lord Lyons has given up the use of all drinks except water and a mixture of milk and soda.

A shirt of strong chain mail is now worn by the Czar. It was made by an armorer of Paris.

Prince Bismarck recently remarked to a diplomatist that of the two evils attacking the empire, the Pope and the Commune, he considered the latter by far the most dangerous.

A card sharper in the wake of a circus swindled Mr. Baylis out of $10, at Plain City, Ohio. Mr. Baylis drew a corn knife from under his blouse and instantly killed the gambler.

The Rev. C. G. Mitchell of Greencastle, Ind., Presbyterian church is on a strike. He announced, after last Sunday's sermon, that he would not preach again until his past due salary was paid.

The telegraph is exclusively in the hands of government in Italy. An innovation is telegraph cards for ten words, to be dropped in office boxes or sent gratuitously through the post to the desired telegraph office.

The blunt verdict of London Truth is that Talmage was in England "a dead failure, as he deserved to be, for his lectures were wretched, and generally in very bad taste." But some of the London religious journals print and praise his language.

A real duel was recently fought at Pepinster, Belgium, by Count de Vevsy, who is noted for enormous wealth, and Baron de Vanloo. They used pistols, and the baron was killed. The Count was arrested, and, though he offered to give $200,000 bail, was put in prison.

Dr. Peterson, a German tourist, lately reached the highest point of the Jungfrau, 12,828 feet. He was rewarded by an hour of clear sky. He declares that he could see the whole chain of the Alps, from the furthest Tyrol to Dauphine, including Mount Blanc and the other southern giants.

Charles L. Pulman, a brother of the Pulman Palace Car Company's President, has been figuring extensively in St. Louis as a swindler. Using his brother's name without authority, as an introduction, he borrowed money right and left, forged several letters, formed a pretended mining company, fooled an acquaintance out of a valuable watch, and finally fled.

The California Theatre has a live English aristocrat in its leading actress, Adelaide Stanhope, only daughter of the late Rev. Henry Stanhope, and granddaughter of the Earl of Harrington, her father being the third son of that nobleman. She is, therefore, the first cousin to the present Earl. One of her aunts was married to the Duke of Bedford, and another was married to the Duke of Leinster.

The wife of a banished French Communist was overjoyed at the news of his pardon, and went to the railroad station with her children at the proper time, to welcome him. But he had been very ill for years, and was so much altered in appearance that she did not recognize him. She went home in a despondent mood, while he hunted in vain for her in the crowd. At last he found her residence; but she had committed suicide, after writing a despairing letter.

An instance of heredity in crime is furnished by Elias Phillips, of Freetown, Mass., who recently appeared as a witness in a burglary trial, having turned State's evidence. He is the great-grandson of Malbone Briggs, a notorious criminal, who was in state prison with seven of his sons at one time. Brigg's ancestry is traced back to a noted pirate in the time of Earl Bellamont, and his branch of the family has for over a century furnished noted criminals in every generation.

Dinner For Ten Cents.

In a description of the works of the Irish Great Southern and Western Railroad, at Inchicore, near Dublin (where the locomotive was built which lately took the American mail from Dublin to Queenstown, 177½ miles, in 4 hours 4 minutes, inclusive of 31 minutes delay), the London Engineer says that the company let to their men good houses at about $1 25 a week. These houses have certain privileges, such as allotment ground, and the grass for a cow at low price. There is a fine dining hall, where an excellent meat dinner, with vegetables and bread, is supplied for 10 cents. The writer adds: "We have seldom seen a finer lot of men, or more orderly or civil. They are very far removed from the 'eave arf a brick at 'im' type, too often met with in our own manufacturing districts."

"Old Brin" Not a Myth.

From the Downieville Messenger.

"Old Brin" is, or perhaps was, no myth, as many men in Sierra Valley can testify. The man who probably knows most about him is Geo. Davis, who lives a short distance west of Randolph, at the head of the Valley. He has trapped and shot him several times. It is now several years since he has been seen. The last time Mr. Davis saw him he shot a handful of slugs into him, knocking him flat, but he got away. It is therefore more than likely that he is dead, but that he once existed in all his hugeness, there is no doubt.

A Horse Eats Tea and Dies.

Lord William Beresford has lost a horse in Africa by poisoning with tea. A staff cook having left several pounds of tea in a sack, a Kaffir groom filled it with corn, and serving out the contents to a troop of horses, gave Beresford's charger the bulk of the tea, which was eaten greedily. The beast plunged, kicked and ran backward, at intervals galloping madly around, finally falling into a donga, where it lay dashing its head on the rocks, and was dispatched by an assegai thrust through the heart. The phenomena exhibited were characteristic of the action of caffeine—cerebra excitement, with partial loss of sensibility, convulsions and death.

A Bright Idea.

From the Eureka Leader.

It is expected that tattooing in bright colors will be so skilfully done that stockings will be dispensed with for a great portion of the time. Street crossings will then rival the base ball grounds as attractive places of resort.

DOCKENDORFER'S MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

George Dockendorfer has turned up in reality, at last, after a long and disheartening search for him had been prosecuted. He was a business man of San Francisco, and suddenly disappeared last March. His family advertised information concerning him. The newspapers did all they could to aid in the search that was immediately instituted. But owing to the large number of Germans in the country whose names were similar to that of the lost man, many cases of mistaken identity resulted from their zealous efforts to unravel the mystery. Two weeks after Dockendorfer's singular disappearance a San Francisco paper heralded in large type, "Discovery of Dorkenforder's Body." But the remains were not those of the missing man, nor were those the next day found floating in the bay, which led another paper to insert "Drowned Dorfendocker" as an alliterative headline. An evening paper, not to be outdone in enterprise, soon after discovered "Nockenfroder in Santa Rosa." A Los Angeles paper the next week ferreted out "The Missing Donderdorcker," working in a brewery. The same day a Virginia City paper discovered "Frockendorfer Frisking on the Comstock." Then a Portland (Oregon) journal announced that the "Missing Rockenriffer" was in Salem. The Seattle reporters took an active part in the search, and in the month of July one of them found "Crafty Chockleporker's Cunning Concealment." The body of a murdered man, believed to be "The Departed Dockemoffer," was about the same time found near Walla Walla. The lost man turned up frequently from that time on in many different places. He registered in a Eureka hotel where he was Bockenforker; was seen at Austin as the "Kidnapped Knockenriffer;" and heard of from Tuscarora as "Neckondoffer Nipped This Time." "Fodderkicker's Fraudulent Flight," discussed in the columns of a morning paper, again recalled poor Dockendorfer's disappearance to mind in San Francisco, and tireless reporters put forth their every effort to find a clue to the mystery. Their search was rewarded by the discovery of "Rickenroffer Rollicking in the Rollers" at Santa Cruz. But in the meantime an interior paper had published the facts of "Rockenfender's Sinful Seclusion at the Springs." Interest in the case was revived all over the coast, and sustained by the publication from time to time of such announcements as "Delinquent Donkeydoffer Doings," "Rascally Ronkerdonker's Retirement to Rocklin," "Defaulter Dickenrocker Dead in Downieville," and "Pilfering Porkenrender Puts Up in Pioche." But now the whole matter has been cleared up. The long-lost Dockendorfer writes to his family that he was "shanghaed" on board of a sailing ship, which was wrecked, and after many delays he had reached mail communication at Bremen, and will soon return home.

NEW MINING EXCITEMENT.

The report of a discovery of very rich gold ore near Panamint has created a new mining excitement. Quartz veins rich in free gold are said to have been recently found on the eastern side of the Panamint mountains, near the margin of Death valley. Another important strike is reported from Modoc district. A rush for the scene of the discoveries has taken place, and the roads from the direction of Kern county are said to be lined with prospectors on the march. The excitement throughout all the surrounding county is described as intense. In commenting upon the news, the Bodie Standard says:

Since 1869 the Amargosa Indians and Piutes from the eastern boundary of Inyo county would frequently bring into Cerro Gordo, Lone Pine and Independence, large nuggets of gold for sale. As early as '69 an Indian exhibited at Lone Pine one of the finest specimens of free gold quartz ever seen in that country. Ned Reddy and other Inyoites were living at that point at the time, and questioned the Indian closely but to no purpose. His answer was similar to that of the Indian prospectors since, who merely point to the eastward and say, "me find him heap long way off." It is not improbable that the new find is in the locality from whence the Indians came, and which for years excited considerable interest.

Arrangements for the Grant reception are being made in Virginia. During the General's stay on the Comstock the Savage mansion will be placed at his disposal. The programme has not yet been prepared.

THE WHEATLAND AFFAIR.

The examination of the Roddans at Wheatland has brought out nothing new of any importance. Last Saturday further hearing of the case was postponed until next Thursday. The prosecution is thought to have made out a very weak case. The witnesses for the defense have not yet been heard. The following extract from the report of the proceedings last Saturday will be found interesting:

Mr. Cadwallader next questioned witness as to his motive in sending the above letter, asking him if it was not blackmail, to which the witness replied: "If any one says I wrote it for the purpose of blackmail, he lies; and if any one thinks so he is a liar; and if you think so you are a liar."

Cadwallader—I ask that the witness be committed for contempt.

Witness, excited—And I ask for the protection of the Court or I shall protect myself.

Cadwalader, rising—You are at liberty to do so. I can whip you in two minutes.

Here the witness stepped down from the stand and advanced toward Cadwallader. A fight seemed imminent for the moment, but Officer Waddell interfered and the peace was preserved.

Judge Bray rebuked the witness for his undignified deportment, saying: "You were wrong, sir, in calling counsel a liar." To which the witness answered: "He accused me of blackmail, and I said if he or anyone else asserted that, he lied."

THE EXEMPLARY DILIGENCE OF A NATIONAL BOARD.

The National Commissioners of Education have afforded an admirable example of the expeditious work performed by National Boards in general, by completing and publishing their report for the year 1877 before the lapse of the year 1879. Thus the Commissioners have taken scarcely two years in which to digest the school returns from thirty-eight States, a rapidity of assimilation to which a boa constrictor alone can furnish a fitting comparison. Of the performances of its Boards (Returning and others) the nation should be justly proud.

The report shows that the entire school population in 1877 was 14,227,748. North Carolina sustained the lowest annual expense per head for education. Nevada paid the highest average salary to teachers, both to marms and pedagogues. The 152 Normal Schools had 37,072 pupils.

THE LESSON OF WILLIAM HAMMER'S DEATH.

A graceful posture can be assumed by placing the right hand upon the muzzle of a gun, and resting the left elbow upon it so as partially to support the weight of the body with the piece.

William Hammer of Colfax, W. T., struck this easy attitude the other day while conversing with a friend in the street.

The friend's little boy, in playing about their feet, pulled back the hammer of the gun, causing its contents to be discharged into the arm of its owner. He died from the shock and the operation which followed.

Although all must admire the easy grace of the attitude described as assumed by the late William Hammer, yet the useful lesson of his decease is plainly this:

One of the worst things in the world to lean on is the muzzle of a gun.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The British, having found the African section of their Empire rather too hot to hold, are now reaching out for the Pole. We learn that "forty-nine provincial committees are affiliated, for the purpose of organizing an expedition to the North Pole on the plan recommended by Commander Cheyne, R. N., who is strongly of opinion that balloons will form an important element in all future arctic explorations." If forty-nine affiliated provincial committees, employing balloons under the direction of Commander Cheyne, R. N., do not succeed in reaching the coveted pole, the hope of attaining it may as well be abandoned.

The Paradise Reporter, in the name of the people of Paradise Valley, calls for the removal from office of Deputy Sheriff Morse. The Reporter asserts that Morse habitually refuses to do his duty. It alleges that the recent murder of T. K. West by Hymers could have been prevented, had Morse arrested Hymers when Hymers first struck West. The Reporter states that Morse was present, and was called upon to make the arrest, but refused to interfere. Ten minutes after his intervention was asked, West was killed.

A species of dwarf cactus, growing abundantly in Lower California, furnishes an excellent material for Mattresses. Nearly $100,000 have been spent in attempts to perfect a machine to properly prepare the material. Success has at last been attained, and a manufacturing company, which includes a number of Comstockers, is about to engage extensively in the manufacture, believing that there is a fortune in the business.

A late number of the Salt Lake Tribune contains a lengthy exposure of the ceremonies of the Mormon Endowment House. The page is adorned by numerous wood cuts. One of them represents the raiment worn by women while being initiated into some of the mysteries. It is a single bifurcated garment, of which the two divisions unite at the collar.

Nast has several good hits at the Democrats in the last Harper's Weekly. One cartoon is marked "Tildenism," and represents a barrel of money from which politicians are freely helping themselves. Beneath are the lines "Rally round the barrel, boys, rally once again, shouting the battle cry of fraud."

Deacon Parkinson was much pleased with the improvements that have recently been made in Reno, and warmly praises them in his paper, the Carson Tribune.

An exchange remarks that "a silk hat in getting made passes through the hands of twelve men." It has fallen under our observation that a silk hat in getting worn, often passes through the hands of a greater number.

The Bee asks "Shall Grant be nominated, and if so, can he be elected?" We predict that if General Grant is nominated again some fanatic will assassinate him. There are plenty of fools and bad men left.

A report has been circulated that Mrs. A. T. Stewart is about to marry again. It is probably an artful dodge to bear the stock in the stolen remains of her late husband.

The bullion yield of Colorado, up to 1879, amounted to nearly eighty tons of pure gold, 770 tons of pure silver, 2110 tons of copper, and 16,150 tons of lead.

It is announced that the Central Pacific Railroad Company will take back to California, free of charge, the California exhibits at our State Fair.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Most of the Eureka merchants are Jews.

A big lynx was captured at Swift's Springs recently.

All kinds of game along the Carson valley this season are very scarce.

Two young girls were convicted of opium smoking in Carson yesterday and fined respectively $20 and $30.

One of Wheeler's freight teams came to grief on the Stillwater Saturday, and the driver had a leg broken.

Working at the Eureka Consolidated furnaces is a feeder who, ten years ago, was a wealthy New York broker.

A fire in Sutro last Sunday burned down a stable and a number of lodging houses. Loss, $2000; insurance, $1000.

The Methodist conference at Winnemucca closed last Saturday. Virginia City was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Cars are arriving at Battle Mountain Station daily, loaded with ties rails, bolts and fish-plates for the Nevada Central Railway.

Deer are reported to be very plentiful down in the valleys, says the Pioche Record. The settlers say they are more numerous this year than ever known heretofore.

The total taxable property in Lander county is $1,630,279. The valuation of the Central Pacific's 29 miles of road in that county has been raised from $6000 to $9000 per mile.

The yield of the Eureka Consolidated for the month of August was, gold, $62,600; silver, $104,300; and lead, $55,600, making a total of $223,500.

Working in one of Glenbrook's sawmills is an old Frenchman who, before the fall of the Empire, was a member of the Imperial household, and attached to the personal staff of Napoleon. So the Carson Appeal says.

A garden near the mouth of Sixmile canyon has growing in it, among other rare plants, two bunches of pampas grass, one of which is six feet high. The plumes on these plants are as large and beautiful as any in the Golden State.

Says the Times-Review: Almost every stage from the railroad brings passengers who are hunting work. To all such we have said, and say again, that neither Tuscarora nor any other of the camps north of here, can offer any employment at present, as the mines and mills are all full handed.

A report has been circulated that the Indians were on the war path between Silver City, Idaho, and Cornucopia. There is no foundation whatever for such a report. The Indians are peaceable, and in that section are all at the Duck Valley reservation.

Jerry Slattery, who formerly worked in the Sutro tunnel, has been arrested in San Francisco on a charge of insanity. He labors under the delusion that Mackay and Fair have hired a gang of assassins to kill him, because he knew so much concerning an ore body in the Ophir when he worked in that mine.

A Boy Killed by a Calf.

COLTON, Cal., Sept. 29.—Two boys, aged ten and four years respectively, sons of Mrs. Poole, who lives on a ranch near this place, were playing with a pet yearling calf this morning, when the elder boy threw a riata and caught the younger around the ankles, then in a spirit of mischief tied the riata to the animal's tail. The calf becoming frightened ran, and dragged the little fellow several times around the inclosure, injuring him so severely that he died a few hours after.

A Judicious Gift.

From the Eureka Sentinel.

A party of gentlemen have been on a fishing excursion to the Humboldt, and returned by last night's train. Jim Fifield captured the "King of the brook," a magnificent trout weighing about five pounds. The party have our thanks for a brain producer.

The Sutro Independent says that when the hot water from the Comstock mines began to flow from the Sutro tunnel it was believed that trees and flowers, if irrigated with it, would die, the water being so hot even a mile below the tunnel's mouth as to be uncomfortable to bathe in. But the result has proven the belief a fallacy. The hot water, instead of injuring the plants, appears to have given them more nourishment than cold water has in past years.

The Battle Mountain Messenger says that L. Cahoon arrived in town on Thursday with his equipments for digging artesian wells for the Nevada Central Railway, and will go to Copper Canyon station to commence the first one on Monday. It will be sunk 1000 feet if necessary. Others will be sunk along the line of the road if the first is a success.

Some parties from Indian valley, says the Lassen Advocate, are at Eagle lake with a view of establishing a summer resort, and putting a steamer on the lake, for fishing and excursion parties.

Jacob German was caught in the machinery of the Nipoma Mills, near San Luis Obispo, on last Saturday, and instantly killed. He leaves a young wife at Santa Cruz, where he resided.

In digging for a cellar for a business house in Butte City, Montana, recently, a promising vein of ore was struck, which assayed 30 ounces of silver to the ton.

A seven and a half pound radish was raised this season in Independence valley, Lassen county.

The Dramatic Entertainment.

The "drama in high life" alluded to in last evening's GAZETTE is progressing finely. It is for the benefit of the Episcopal Church and should draw a crowded house. Some fine amateur talent is hard at work, and is preparing a fine bill. A full orchestra will be in attendance to furnish a musical programme outside and in. A spectacular exhibition of all the fine scenery in the new theatre will be one of the features of the evening. Such a combination of drama, singing and music cannot fail to entertain. Let home talent be encouraged.

The M. E. Conference Appointments.

The Methodist Episcopal Conference, which closed its session last Saturday at Winnemucca, made the following appointments:

White; Indian Valley, L. Ewing; Quincey, N. G. Luke; Sierra Valley, to be supplied; Eureka Mills, to be supplied; Surprise Valley, M. W. Pratt.

The Methodist congregation here are delighted at Mr. McKelvey's continuance and his friends outside of his own denomination are pleased to have him remain.

A Drunken Mahala Assaults Her Husband on the Street.

A drunken squaw on West street last evening furiously assaulted her lord. She scratched and bit him furiously. The Indian did not knock the woman down as many of the noble race of white men would have done, but pushed her from him, sometimes slapping her face with his open hand when she was doing her worst. The Indian kept talking to her, more in sorrow than in anger, saying: "You bite like any dog. When you sober, then all right. Now you drunk, you mean as dog." The squaw once seized his arm with her teeth and bit into his flesh. The man beat her off and she at length desisted, and they went off together.

Whiskey often sinks the Indian to the level of the brute, but never so low as the white wretch who sells it to him. Some scoundrel in this community is constantly supplying the Indians with whiskey. Can no one bring the follow to justice?

The New Theatre Opened With the "Juvenile Pinafores."

The little "Pinafores" sang last night and made a decided hit. "Josephine," a beautiful child, and consummate little actress, fairly captivated the audience. She brought down the house several times, particularly when she said "Oh, goodness gracious! how I love him." Her singing of "Pretty as a Picture," was charming. Several of the other performers in frocks were excellent. The most amusing one of the lot was the mite of a midshipman, who was a very "broth of a boy."

The new theatre showed to excellent advantage under the gaslight. The drop curtain, painted by Laycock, was much admired. The whole stage decoration has been exceedingly well done. The wood work is neat and has been finished and painted in excellent taste.

A Critical Opinion on "Old Jack" and "Maggie C."

Alvaro Evans visited the race track last Sunday, and displayed great interest in the horses that are in training there for the coming races. He was shown them all in turn, and as a recognized judge of horseflesh, his opinions were listened to with a proper degree of deference by the boys. Among the animals shown Mr. Evans were Old Jack Stewart, rising twenty-four, and Maggie C., a six-year-old. Mr. Evans was told that Maggie C. was Jack's dam, and that Jack was one of the three-year-olds. The old gentleman thought Jack "a very promising colt," but expressed his belief that he would "never be the equal of the old mare Maggie that foaled him."

George Daley Emigrating.

George Daley, late of the Jupiter mine, went to San Francisco on the fast train last night. In conversation with a GAZETTE reporter he said that he was going to the Bay to arrange his business, and was then going east to live. His intention is to visit Leadville and other Colorado districts, then go to New York; and if he finds business to suit him, and likes the place, etc., he will go into business with Wm. M. Lent. He says the Jupiter is looking well, and the stock is worth $3 a share with the present prospects, and would be selling for that if people were sure they would not be robbed of their ground. He thinks he can get along without Bodie, if it can get along without him and his friends and their money.

Fatal Affray in Truckee.

A stabbing affray took place in Truckee at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, between two teamsters named Thomas and Whitney, in which Thomas was very seriously cut under the left arm, above the heart. The quarrel resulted in consequence of Thomas accusing Whitney of getting him discharged off a ranch where they had both been working, and in the scuffle which ensued Whitney drew a bowie knife and did the stabbing. Thomas cannot recover. Whitney is under arrest.

Board of Equalization.

The Board of Equalization was in session to-day, for the purpose of adjusting various assessments. They gave a hearing this afternoon to Supt. Yerington of the V. & T. Railroad.

An Entertainment Thursday Night.

The Women's Temperance Union will give an entertainment next Thursday evening. The farce of "A Loan of a Lover" will be enacted.

A Suggestion to Photographers.

A good photograph of the town of Reno and Washoe valley should find a ready local sale. There are many points of view on the surrounding hills from which an excellent picture could be taken. The town has now been entirely rebuilt over the ruins of the late fire, and never looked so well as it does to-day. The situation of the place is one of exceeding natural beauty, and a well taken photograph would undoubtedly make a very pleasing picture, one that our residents would be glad to send to distant relatives and friends. A comprehensive view of the valley, with the majestic Sierra for a background, would be of interest anywhere. It is to be hoped that some artist will act upon this suggestion before the fair is over. There should be money in it to the right man.

Personal.

Theodore Winters is in town.

Bishop Haven has left Winnemucca for the East.

Rev. John D. Hammond returned to Carson this morning.

Judge King went down to San Francisco last night. His mother is reported very ill there.

C. S. Varian, A. H. Manning and J. K. Everett, did Grant in San Francisco, and are home again.

Hymer Found Guilty.

The trial of Charles Hymer for the killing of T. K. West, which has been in the Fourth Judicial Court at Winnemucca for the past ten days, was given to the jury yesterday. After being out two hours the jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Hymer will be sentenced on Saturday, the 4th of October, at 10 A. M.

Snipe Hunting to Some Purpose.

George Merritt, of the gas works, was shooting on the meadows last Sunday. He bagged thirty-seven robin snipe, and seven ducks. The ducks are plenty there now, but wild. Parrott was down there a day or two ago, and among other birds, killed a large raven.

The Pacific Company's New Mill.

The new mill of the Pacific Lumber and Wood Company on the Truckee River is going up rapidly. The best and most improved machinery has been ordered, and the company intend to make their mill one of the finest on the coast.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative: The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.
